GREECE ON VERGE OF BECOMING WAR NATION

Rumors State That Constantine Has Fled to Protection of Germans; Premier Zaimis Has Resigned; Country Upset

AUSTRIANS REPORTED FLEEING RUMANIANS

Athens Advises Say Serbians Have Inflicted Heavy Loss on Bulgarians and That the Fighting in Macedonia Severe

ATHENS, London, Aug. 31.—Rapid developments in the diplomatic situation here today make it appear that within forty-eight hours Greece will have abandoned the policy of neutrality in the war.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 30.—Official announcement was made here today that the passage of Russian troops through Rumania has begun.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Greek government has been thrown into chaos by the resignation of Premier Zaimis, while rumors are in circulation that King Constantine has fled; said an Athens despatch today.

Zaimis, who became head of the Greek cabinet on June 23, resigned because of Rumania's entrance into the war, the despatch said. He informed King Constantine two weeks ago that he would not attempt to direct the affairs of government if the Balkan situation was made more complicated by a declaration of war from Rumania.

Reports that King Constantine has fled his capital and taken refuge with a German escort of Uhlans at Larissa, 150 miles north of Athens, have not been confirmed.

The report was first telegraphed to London by the official British press representative with the allied forces at Saloniki, who also telegraphed a report that the allies landed a strong force at Piraeus, eight miles from Athens, which was engaged by a Greek army. Several Greek princes have fallen, the despatch said. Earlier despatches from Athens said that the French and British ministers had made several unsuccessful attempts to obtain an audience with King Constantine since the Rumanian declaration of war.

The fall of the Zaimis neutrality vation of former Premier Venizelos to the head of the Greek government and a declaration of war on the central powers, it is believed here.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A Central News despatch from Rome today said that the fighting in the Balkans is severe along the Macedonian front, says an Athens despatch to the wireless press, which adds that the Bulgarian regiments suffered a severe check at the hands of the Serbians on the entente left flank and that the Bulgarian losses are estimated at 15,000.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—An Austrian flotilla operating on the River Danube shelled and destroyed Rumanian transports, port magazines and military establishments near Turnu Severin and Giurgevo on the lower Danube, said an official statement from Vienna today.

The Austrians captured two Rumanian tugs near Zimnicea and two motorboats.

The Austrian General staff plans to evacuate all Southern Transylvania to the Rumanians in order to shorten the Austrian lines, Austrian newspapers announced today.

Strike to Crush Price of Foods Produce to Glut Local Markets

Oakland may have to pay a little extra for its meat supply if the railroad strike is called. But any one who eats vegetables need not starve or complain of the high cost of living. Potatoes, onions, fruits and produce will be so cheap that they will be almost given away, say local commission men. River steamers will bring produce here and here it will lie, if the railroads cannot move it. The commission men say the result will be cheap vegetables for Oakland and San Francisco, and that possibly some interior cities may be supplied by auto trucks.

"No one need fear starvation here," said George W. Hatch, of the Fruit and Vegetable Commission. "In fact it will be just the other way. Milk can be brought in by trucks. Oakland is lucky as far as the food situation goes."

While meat may be scarce local packers say the cattle can be driven here and that the bay cities themselves will see little hardship. The same applies to all coast ports, as boat shipments will care for the situation. Interior cities will see a more serious situation, evidenced by sharply rising prices.

That the commuters who own ticket books will not be affected by the strike is shown in the announcement made by Passenger Traffic Manager Charles S. Fee of the Southern Pacific.

"In the event of the impending strike being declared the Southern Pacific Company anticipates no interruption in its suburban service by ferries and electric lines. But in the event that there should be any interruption commuter tickets issued by the Southern Pacific will be honored on the boats and trains of the Key Route."

S. F. BAY REGION PREPARING FOR RAILWAY STRIKE

No Interruption of Normal Business or Supply Shortage Looked for.

With the possibility of a nation-wide railroad strike, a situation next Monday morning, Oakland and the bay cities are planning ways and means to prevent a shortage of supplies and to tide over the period of disturbance with the least amount of interruption to normal business. While the situation is viewed with no slight apprehensions, it is believed that the communities around San Francisco bay will suffer less annoyance and privation than others because of the electric and water routes that will bring fresh foodstuffs to the market.

Oakland, as the center of the western division of the Southern Pacific, which comprises 454 miles of rail and employs about 10,000 men, will be one of the storm centers of the strike. The western division extends from Oakland to Sacramento on the east, to Santa Rosa and Castagna on the north and to San Jose on the south. About 15 per cent of the 8000 employees are trained to be on duty in the event of a strike.

Besides the transcontinental and local passenger and freight lines, the Southern Pacific operates its electrical service to San Francisco and the street car line between Oakland and Alameda. There will be affected as well, for the train crews are members of the Brotherhoods.

Resides Oakland, the western cities that will be most seriously concerned are Sacramento, Fresno, Bakersfield, Los Angeles, El Paso, Ogden and Sparks, all division centers. These are the points where disturbances may be expected in the event that the strike becomes acrimonious and attempts are made to prevent the operation of trains by non-union men.

ADAPTED PROTECTION. Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen is confident that the Oakland situation can be easily handled by the present police force, with the aid of extra men which he is permitted by the city charter and ordinance to call upon at need. No assignments of men have been made for special duty as yet, but all is in readiness for the strike, should it come.

If the strike order goes into effect Monday every police officer in the city will be notified that he must work twelve hours daily, in lieu of the customary eight hours. In this manner Petersen will immediately add the equivalent of one-third his department's strength. No holidays or leaves of absence will be granted any officer of the department during the strike.

Under the city's laws, Petersen, in a case of emergency, may add 100 members to his force. This will not be done immediately, however, and will occur only in the event of serious trouble. Two flying

FAIRBANKS ACCEPTS IN VIRILE TALK

Democratic Administration Is Attacked by Senator Sherman in Address Notifying Nominee of Nomination

Wilson's Broken Pledges and Other Failures of Executive Are Recalled in Speech by Vice-Presidential Candidate

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 31.—Formerly notifying Charles W. Fairbanks here today of his nomination by the Republican party for vice-president, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois attacked the record of President Wilson and the Democratic party and declared that whatever the result of the election, Indiana would give the government its Vice-President, who would be "an eminent and capable man and a gentleman."

Senator Sherman, after formally notifying Fairbanks of his nomination, said:

Both candidates on our national ticket enlisted on the call of the Republican convention. Neither hesitated in volunteering his services. Both are now rendering that service in the common cause of redeeming the country from the misrule and habitual incapacity of the Democratic party now near the end of its third failure in half a century.

President Wilson relied upon a one-term pledge in the Democratic platform in 1912 when a candidate, but not only failed to keep it when in office, but repudiated it in his Palmer letter a month before he was inaugurated. The American people will enforce obedience to his broken promise.

In his speech of acceptance, the nominee said:

NOMINEE'S SPEECH. "I am deeply sensible of the high honor of the commission which you bring me. To be chosen as the candidate of the Republican party for the vice-presidency of the United States is a distinction which any patriotic American may well covet. I accept the nomination and pledge you my utmost service during the campaign. If the people ratify the choice of the convention I shall consecrate my best efforts to the discharge of my official duties. As you are aware, this is a call which was unsolicited by me; that fact intensifies my sense of duty to those in behalf of whom you speak."

"The platform adopted by the Chicago convention has my hearty approval. Carried into the public administration and written into the statutes it will insure industrial and national prosperity during the years of our ascendancy."

"The Democratic party came into power through an unhappy division within our own ranks. It represented a minority

INSANE PATIENT LEAPS BENEATH SPEEDING TRAIN

Death Comes When Attendant Is Within Fifteen Feet of Fugitive.

After a sensational escape through the window of the Oakland Fifth Avenue Hospital, Peter Mignolla Jr., 28 years old, of 638 Sixteenth street, threw himself under the wheels of the "cannon ball" Southern Pacific train at Eighth avenue and the Southern Pacific right of way this morning.

Fifteen feet behind him was Chris Berzenhammer, a hospital attendant, who narrowly escaped death in his attempt to save the demented man.

Scores of people on the speeding train saw the man leap to his death. Mignolla's body was crushed and mangled beyond recognition.

Little is known of the dead man. He was sent to the hospital, which is at 812 Fifth avenue, by Dr. J. R. Alken yesterday and ordered placed under treatment as an insane patient. While Berzenhammer was in the patient's ward this morning, Mignolla made a sudden dash by the attendant and leaped head foremost through a window. Berzenhammer followed him, turning west and continuing his flight to Seventh avenue, and there running south to the Southern Pacific tracks. Upon reaching the tracks Berzenhammer noticed the approach of the speeding outbound train. Mignolla ran by the side of the tracks until the engine was within a few feet of him, when he stopped suddenly, laughed derisively at his pursuer and jumped in the path of the train.

JOHNSON'S PLURALITY NEARS 20,000

Senatorial Nominee Receives 151,392 Votes; Booth Given 133,352 Out of 91 Per Cent of Precincts Making Report

Backers of Governor Declare He Will Be Able to Entirely Dominate Coming Republican Convention Next September

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson's majority over Willis Booth for the Republican nomination for United States Senator will be very close to 20,000, according to almost complete returns from all sections of the state available today.

These covered 91 per cent of all the 5443 precincts in the state. With only 473 precincts missing, Johnson's total vote was 151,392, against 133,352 for Booth, a plurality for Johnson of 18,040. The unreported precincts are scattered and the Johnson advocates declare that they will increase the governor's majority.

With the regular Republican leaders conceding the victory of Governor Johnson, speculation centered today on the probable effect of the primaries on the Republican and Progressive party conventions to be held in Sacramento September 19. On that date the present Republican state central committee, which frankly opposed Governor Johnson's candidacy, will go out of power.

CLAIM OF POWER. Backers of Governor Johnson declare that the governor will be able to dominate the coming Republican convention, dictate the platform of principles to be adopted then and also name almost entirely the personnel of the new Republican state committee to be chosen at that time. If Johnson does name the committee, the Republican party does not expect representation.

There is also considerable speculation as to whether Johnson will ask the Progressive convention to endorse Charles Evans Hughes for President. When he announced his own personal support of Hughes the governor said he would only ask other Progressives to vote for whatever candidate for President they preferred.

William H. Crocker, Republican national committeeman, whom Governor Johnson has been attacking during his primary campaign, announced today that he would support Johnson and do all in his power to aid in the governor's election.

Governor Johnson received many congratulatory telegrams today. Included in the messages from Theodore Roosevelt and from Charles E. Hughes.

George S. Patton of Los Angeles, the Democratic candidate for the Senate, nominated at Tuesday's primary, without opposition, will open headquarters in the Phelan building today with John T. Gaffey of Los Angeles in temporary charge. Patton's campaign will be handled by John D. Waldorf, who is now on the way from Washington, D. C., to take charge.

HUGHES'S MESSAGE. ESTES PARK, Colo., Aug. 31.—Republican Nominee Hughes today sent a telegram of congratulation to Governor Hiram Johnson of California on his success in winning the Republican nomination for United States Senator. His telegram read:

I heartily congratulate you on your nomination and I tender my best wishes for your election. We are not only seeking the success of the national ticket, but it is very important that we should have a Republican Senate and House. I trust there will be a complete union of forces, insuring a thorough-going victory.

DIVIDENDS NOT ISSUE. Garretson argued that the effect of an increased wage on dividends should not be considered when it was obvious that employees were not being paid a proper wage.

He said that a proper wage would decrease its profits.

Attacking the railways' plea for arbitration as insincere, Garretson said that it was not offered to men who were so poorly organized that they could not enforce demands. He continued:

I say on behalf of these railroad men that there is evidence today of a deadly danger underlying the social crust and that it is liable to be brought to the surface unless means are found to settle this difficulty before it can reach the danger stage. He declared the Brotherhoods' officials could only call off the strike by reporting that a satisfactory settlement had been made. To postpone the strike after the men had voted it, Garretson declared, would mean the disintegration of the Brotherhoods and the turning over to the mob of the trains as in 1877 and 1894. He said:

I want to impress on the committee that since the beginning of these negotiations no definite proposal ever has been made to us by the other side. They have said but one thing; they have offered to leave the whole matter to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Garretson added that he wanted to assure the Senators that the Brotherhoods were not opposed to arbitration. He declared:

We believe in the principle of arbitration, but not in arbitration where we stand only to lose.

Senate Committee Hears Argument Of Rail Workers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Railroad brotherhood officials late today, through A. B. Garretson, agreed to accept as a basis for calling off the strike the Adamson compromise eight-hour bill, already approved by President Wilson and House leaders. The measure was immediately introduced by Representative Adamson with a view to having it passed and sent to the Senate tomorrow.

The Senate leaders soon afterward determined to introduce a similar measure in the Senate tomorrow for immediate action. It will be finally drafted by the Interstate Commerce Committee tonight.

The Adamson bill would provide for an eight-hour day at the present ten-hour payday, effective next December 1st. Employees would be given the pro rata rate for overtime. A committee of three to be appointed by the President would report to him and Congress in not less than six nor more than nine months the effort of the eight-hour day. Expenses would be paid by a federal appropriation of $25,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The attitude of Congress today toward the threatened railroad strike situation was exemplified by the resolution, pending in the Senate, calling on Brotherhood officials to suspend the strike order for one week and the statement of Senator Thomas that if the government failed to protect the public in such a crisis it had no right to call itself a government. Senator Newlands spoke on the short time remaining for Congress to act and said:

This present dispute, if carried to its extremes, will involve the United States in a civil war. The question is whether we cannot find some means of bringing about a settlement of this dispute between employers and employees without resort to force.

The Brotherhood representatives were heard first. At the request of A. B. Garretson, chief of the conductors, it was agreed that the committee two hours in opening and an hour in closing. Between these periods, representatives of the employers and shippers have six hours. He announced that besides the heads of the four Brotherhoods, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, also would speak.

ADVOCATES FIGHTING UNION. Garretson then began with a general statement of the circumstances which led up to the present conditions. He said:

It is the belief of labor organizations that differences between employers and employees should not be settled by legislation but rather between themselves. The success of any labor organization lies in its militancy. We are in the grip of a power greater than ourselves, and it is unfortunate that this situation has arisen. But I believe if a settlement can be effected by Congress, even though we are opposed to legislative settlements, we are willing to waive the age-old tradition against it.

Today thousands of men working from twelve to sixteen hours a day. The Brotherhoods demand the human right to enjoy some of the things that other men enjoy. We believe that the human element should be considered, regardless of its effect on dividends.

The obligation on the part of the railroad employer is as great to keep the human element in iron property of the road.

DIVIDENDS NOT ISSUE. Garretson argued that the effect of an increased wage on dividends should not be considered when it was obvious that employees were not being paid a proper wage.

He said that a proper wage would decrease its profits.

Attacking the railways' plea for arbitration as insincere, Garretson said that it was not offered to men who were so poorly organized that they could not enforce demands. He continued:

I say on behalf of these railroad men that there is evidence today of a deadly danger underlying the social crust and that it is liable to be brought to the surface unless means are found to settle this difficulty before it can reach the danger stage. He declared the Brotherhoods' officials could only call off the strike by reporting that a satisfactory settlement had been made. To postpone the strike after the men had voted it, Garretson declared, would mean the disintegration of the Brotherhoods and the turning over to the mob of the trains as in 1877 and 1894. He said:

I want to impress on the committee that since the beginning of these negotiations no definite proposal ever has been made to us by the other side. They have said but one thing; they have offered to leave the whole matter to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

CONGRESS WILL ENACT EIGHT-HOUR DAY LAW

Employees' Chiefs Say Proposed Legislation, If Action Is Had by Saturday, Will Stop Tie-Up, at Least for Present

PRESIDENT PREPARED TO APPEAL TO MEN

Employers Say Situation Now Is in Hands of Workers and of National Legislators; Administration More Hopeful

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Congress put all other affairs aside today and devoted itself to enacting President Wilson's legislative program to avert the railroad strike.

But the president did not depend on Congress alone and continued his efforts to get the Brotherhood heads to postpone their strike order. Just before noon the president went to the capitol and conferring with the leaders urged on them the need of speed to get the bills through the legislative machinery of the House and Senate before Saturday night. Then returning to the White House he called the four Brotherhood heads. Before him for another appeal to delay their strike while Congress by law provides what the railroads have refused.

Although the Brotherhood leaders reiterated that only a "favorable settlement" could delay the strike and that they were powerless to postpone it, one of them admitted he believed the rank and file of the men, in view of the efforts being made in Congress, would vote to delay it if there was time for them to express their wishes.

Back of it all President Wilson was holding another card—a direct appeal to the rank and file of the railroad men to realize that Congress is about to give them what they ask and to stay at their posts. The president was determined to do this if it was time for them to express their wishes.

AGREE ON BILL. While the Senate interstate commerce committee was hearing the railroad heads and the Brotherhood leaders, the House managers got into action and agreed on a bill, introduced by Representative Adamson and approved by President Wilson, providing the eight-hour day, pro rata pay for overtime and a commission to investigate the new conditions. They planned to rush it through while the Senate was working. It did not include the compulsory investigation features of the president's program but there were indications that Congress would be satisfied with enough to prevent the men from striking and take up the remainder later.

Meanwhile employers and men had a public hearing on the president's legislative program before the Senate interstate commerce committee. The men opposed the compulsory investigation features of the program but the employers supported it.

Oakland Guard Is Coming Home

Strike Duty May Be Reason for Move

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 31.—Major General Funston today designated the First and Second Infantry as the Illinois Guardsmen who would return home. General Funston does not know what other state regiments will be designated for recall as he has not yet heard from the divisional commanders.

The Fifth California Infantry is to return to its state mobilization camp from Nogales, Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The following announcement, inspired presumably by the demand for preparation for the threatened rail strike, was made by the War Department:

"The War Department tonight directed General Funston to return to state mobilization camps three regiments from New York, two from New Jersey, one from Maryland, one from California, one from Oregon, one from Washington and one from Louisiana, making in all about 15,000 of the National Guard."

"In view of the fact that there is substantially this number of troops who have not done patrol duty on the border it is felt that this number can be spared."

"In a few days, if transportation facilities remain unobstructed, the department intends to order home some more regiments and possibly to replace them with troops now in their mobilization camps in the several states."

COURTS TO COUNT VOTE IN 38TH DIST.

Schaffer and Callaghan Run Too Close for Assembly and Result is to Be Put Up to Judges in Contest of Count

Thirty-Ninth District Also Fore-shadows Recount: Election Between Three Candidates: Regularity of Ballots Doubted

Two election contests will probably result over the returns from the primary election of last Tuesday between candidates for nomination in the Thirty-ninth and the thirty-ninth assembly districts.

So close are the figures between R. J. Callaghan and Louis Schaffer, candidates for the Republican nomination in the Thirty-ninth district that they have practically decided that a court count will be necessary to finally determine their standing. Schaffer received 1661 votes, not including the vote cast for him in precinct 134, while Callaghan received 1693 votes, according to the returns from the precincts. The returns from the precincts compiled by the county clerk. The supervisors will immediately canvass the returns from that precinct and it is expected that Schaffer will then be given a slight majority. The count will be sufficiently close, however, to warrant a recount, according to the interested parties.

In the Thirty-ninth precinct Frank W. Anderson received 1509 votes and Fred E. Stewart 1476 votes for the Republican nomination. Anderson also beat W. F. Lennan by a few votes for the Democratic nomination and it is possible that Lennan will enter the contest for that nomination as well as the Progressive which he received without opposition. Anderson will therefore be in a position of defending his count for both nominations.

Drug Habitue Prefers Death to San Quentin

"I'll never enter San Quentin," declared Percy F. Tibbitts, who was sentenced to Superior Judge Wells to five years for burglary. "I have thirty drops of prussic acid hidden in my cell at the county jail and I will kill myself before I go to prison."

Tibbitts denounced the authorities in general, his counsel in particular, and loudly proclaimed that he was being "railroaded to prison by the system."

"I have a wife and baby in Long Island and they need my support," he shouted.

The defendant entered the home of a local physician and stole a quantity of morphine, taking nothing else of value. He admitted that he has been a victim of the drug habit. Judge Wells and Attorney Friedman, as well as the probation officer, have endeavored to have him admitted to an institution, where he could be cured of the habit, but none would take him.

Mullins in Statement Thanks Many Friends

Supervisor John F. Mullins, who was nominated as candidate to succeed himself, by a large plurality at Tuesday's election, today issued a statement thanking his friends and supporters for their loyalty throughout the campaign. He said:

"I wish to thank the voters who gave me such a handsome vote in the primary election. My plurality of approximately 300 over my nearest opponent is certainly very gratifying to me and assures me of hearty support in the November campaign, enabling me to serve the people of Oakland for another term."

"I wish also to thank THE TRIBUNE for its kindness and fair treatment of my candidacy and all other candidates in the contest."

Vote by Districts Compiled by Gross

Figures compiled by County Clerk Gross today show, semi-officially, the vote recorded the different candidates in the Sixth Congressional district compared by cities and in the outside precincts.

The table follows:

Oakland—Eliot, 9081; Crosby, 7117;
Derrick, 3911; West, 2463;
Berkeley—Eliot, 4729; Crosby, 1211;
Derrick, 768; West, 401.
Alameda—Eliot, 1009; Crosby, 1340;
Derrick, 351; West, 704.
Outside—Eliot, 1425; Crosby, 2565;
Derrick, 635; West, 453.

Randall Is Nominated to Congress in Ninth

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 31.—With a poll of 6623 votes, Charles H. Randall is nominated today as Congressman for the Ninth district. He defeated the Republican, by just thirty-six votes in the final count.

Captain H. Z. Osborn, Republican, secured the tenth district nomination with 13,556, leading Stanley Benedict by more than a thousand votes.

Amendment to Permit Commerce Retaliation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Senate this afternoon passed an amendment to the revenue bill permitting the President to prohibit importation of articles from nations that will not allow American products to enter their ports.

Twelve Years Is Sentence of Vaughn

Compton Vaughn, who shot and killed George Barnett near Sausalito on July 5, was sentenced to 12 years in San Quentin today by Superior Judge J. J. Trabucchi. Vaughn, who denied a motion for a new trial. Counsel for the defendant gave notice of an appeal. Vaughn and Barnett quarreled over a game of cards. Vaughn pleaded self-defense for his crime and was convicted of murder in the second degree, the jury recommending him to the mercy of the court.

SIMPSON HEARING SET.

Lida B. Simpson, widow of a Stanford University professor, charged by James H. Edelen with having unethically him out of $500 in a check transaction, will have preliminary examination before Police Judge Mortimer Smith on September 6. It was to have been held today, but was postponed owing to the inability of Carl Eisenachmiller, handwriting expert, to be present as a witness for the prosecution.

FAIRBANKS MAKES HIS ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

the people and does not today hold a commission from the majority. When invested with power it immediately set to work to force down the throats of the majority policies to which they were and ever since have been opposed. Democracy stands, as it has stubbornly stood for many years, for a free trade or revenue tariff; while the Republican party stands, as it has always loyally stood, for the great doctrine of American protection our future industrial prosperity depends upon our choice between the two in the pending campaign.

FALSE THEORY.

"What protection and free trade mean we know from our actual experience; they are not in the domain of the academic."

"The present free trade, or tariff for revenue law, which Democracy regards with such high favor, has worked untold damage. This law, which is to be maintained if Democracy triumphs, must stand or fall, not by what Democratic conventions say of it, but by what it has said for itself under normal trade conditions. Even before it was approved by Mr. Wilson, who took pride in the executive act, business began to furl its sails. The coming storm was apparent and prudence took possession of our people. The certainty of the law passed among us. Our competitors in Europe, France, Germany and elsewhere were put upon the road in the United States and promptly began writing orders. The slowing down process began with a vengeance. The workmen who were the first to feel the blighting effects of the repeal of our great economic policy began to lose their jobs; factories were closed; trains were taken off our railways; thousands of cars accumulated on the sidetracks; mines were closed; the workers in our charities received increasing appeals from the unfortunate victims of the free trade policy. That Democracy was again in power was made evident throughout the republic."

"So strong was the pressure of the unemployed that the administration was obliged to organize for the purpose of securing their work and wages. This seemed like mockery. To close the field of labor's opportunity and rob them by the thousands of their chance for wage and then to organize search for work among those who were holding fast to what they had, seemed like the very irony of fate. The best employment agencies were in many quarters not been Republican protective tariff measures, such as bore the name of William McKinley and others."

"With the loss of work and wages under the Wilson administration the public revenue diminished. The Underwood law proved not only disastrous to labor, but failed as a revenue producer. The melancholy experiences of the years following the repeal of the McKinley law were repeated; the experiences of the years beginning with 1893 were being repeated in 1913. Hope was fast fading out when all Christiansand was shocked by the European war. Demands from the belated nations upon us for our urgent military requirements, our little men were recalled to the fields of industry; our foreign commerce rose to colossal figures and the golden currents sought our shores; prosperity returned to us in many quarters—not because of Democracy, but in spite of it. It is not the prosperity of peace; it is not prosperity thoroughly diffused throughout the country. It is the prosperity of war, based upon the misfortunes of others; it is a prosperity which is known to be but temporary; there is no thought of permanence in it; all is spectacular—artificial—ephemeral."

WAR OF MARKETS.

"There is no observer who does not know that when the war ceases and the contest is transferred from the trenches to the factories, an unprecedented war of markets will be on. Our standard of wages and living will be matched against the lower wage and living standards of other countries more sharply than ever in our past history."

"The protective tariff when again adopted by the Republican party must prove our safeguard. The Democratic free trade measure was disastrous to our industries and public revenues before the war began. Upon what theory, based upon rational judgment, can we assume that we shall have more favorable experience when peace is again restored than we had in the midst of peace when Democracy overthrew our industries?"

"We are the greatest sugar consuming nation in the world. We are sending approximately $50,000,000 annually to foreign countries for sugar which should be produced at home."

"When McKinley came into power he sought to stimulate a wide interest in the development of the beet sugar industry. A duty of $1.35 per hundred

RESTORE ECONOMY.

"We are resolved to restore economy in government. Our Democratic friends have repeatedly pledged themselves to economy in public administration, but when in power have been extravagant and reckless. Some of the strongest Democratic leaders have denounced the extravagances of their party, but have been impotent to give us relief. Economy is in Democratic platform, but it seems to have no place in Democratic administration."

"We believe unqualifiedly in the maintenance of a firm foreign policy, doing justice to others and demanding like justice for ourselves. This is the

HUGHES AGAIN IS ON NATIONAL TOUR

Vacation in Rockies Ends for Candidate After Four Days' Rest.

ESTES PARK, Colo., Aug. 31.—Charles E. Hughes regretfully ended his four-day vacation in the fastnesses of the Rockies today and again took up the burden of his campaign for the presidency.

With Mrs. Hughes he was up bright and early, fresh and vigorous following yesterday afternoon's tramp, which led them far from the common trails to Bear Lake. There they came upon a group of campers, wadded in blankets and lying about a roaring fire while their garments, soaked by a mountain storm, were drying. They recognized the Republican nominee and his wife and their apologies for not rising were greeted with laughter by Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who smiled the damp garments fluttering near the fire.

"Don't mind us," the nominee called, "we're the intruders."

He and Mrs. Hughes chatted for a while with the blanket-swathed campers and then started down the trail where an automobile was waiting.

Now until November 4, with the exception of a rest from September 12 to September 18, Hughes will be continually campaigning.

It was not determined today whether Mrs. Hughes would accompany him in his trip through the Middle West and South, which begins September 15, or would stay at home.

UNDERWOOD LAW.

"When the Underwood law was enacted it provided that the tariff upon sugar should be gradually reduced until it reached the free list May 1, 1916. This was a staggering blow to the great industry and tremendous loss of public revenue. Forced by the necessities of the administration, Congress repealed the free trade clause of the Underwood schedule, not because the tariff aided an industry, but for revenue only. The repeal was effected a short time before sugar was scheduled to go upon the free list. This reversal of the hostile policy of the Democratic administration is but temporary; if the party remains in power it will pursue the sugar industry to its death."

"Before Congress repealed the free provision affecting the sugar schedule, duties, amounting to many millions of dollars which otherwise would have been paid by foreign sugar producers, were lost to our treasury and the deficiency was realized by obnoxious stamp taxes imposed upon the people. This was a direct injury to us, not only in the loss of large revenue, but in the crippling of a great and developing industry which the Republican party had carefully sought to foster during the administration of Harrison, McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft."

"The rebuilding of our merchant marine is one of the most imperative and urgent needs of the times. Our national and industrial independence demand that we shall not daily further with this great question. We must enact such laws as will enable us to compete successfully with other maritime nations. We once had a prominent position in the carrying trade of the high seas, but we have lost our place of leadership and it devolves upon us now, if we are the great people we profess to be, to regain it. It is estimated that for the ten years prior to the beginning of the European war we paid to foreign shipowners for carrying our imports and exports approximately $1,500,000,000. The annual revenue from this amounted to approximately $50,000,000. This tremendous outgo, if properly financed, would put no additional burden upon the government and would result in a large saving to the country. The war has emphasized the perils of our dependence upon other nations for the carrying of our foreign commerce. We are seriously handicapped in our effort to expand our markets into and beyond the seas because we must depend so largely upon shipowners for the transportation of our products. A merchant vessel is a good commercial traveler and will search out business in all harbors of the country whose flag it bears."

"We are opposed to a government-owned or a government-operated merchant marine. Such a merchant marine is violative of sound governmental policy; it will prove expensive and serve to check individual enterprise from entering one of the most important fields of our national development."

MEXICO A PROBLEM.

"We do not generally appreciate the surest method of regaining the world's esteem and insuring the prevalence of honorable peace with our international neighbors."

"Our opponents pride themselves on the assumed fact that their candidate for the presidency has kept the country out of the war. This is too broad; it comprehends more than the truth. We have not been kept out of war, for there has been real war in Mexico, due to our own aggression. It does not redound to our credit. That it was not greater is due to the fact that Mexico is not great. There has been no danger to the part of any power beyond the seas, either in Europe or in the Orient, to go to war with us."

"It is not a very difficult task for any President to keep out of war if nobody wants to fight us, and when our people thoroughly believe that we are not engaged in a policy which will meet successfully all of our international necessities."

WILSON VAGILLATING.

"We regard the dealings of the President with Mexico as vagillating. He has been given a free hand and had no one to blame for what he had done or failed to do except himself. I have tried, so far as my influence would go, to uphold his hands, regardless of whether we agreed with his policy or not. The soundness of his policy, in foreign affairs we have always been loyal to our constitutional leaders. Our patience has been put to the test in Mexico. We have sharply disagreed with the President, but have stood by him nevertheless. We have seen things go from bad to worse, we have seen the butchery of our countrymen upon both sides of the border; we have seen millions of dollars' worth of property destroyed, but we have steadfastly supported him, and shall continue to do so until the close of the chapter of his power. A settlement day is now at hand, between the President and Mexico, but between the President and the electors of the United States. Our patience is exhausted and we believe our national interest requires a new deal."

"It is unnecessary to review the President's course with Mexico in detail; one or two conspicuous facts will suffice. It was our manifest duty to have recognized Huerta as the president, either de facto or de jure; he was clearly in power under the forms of Mexican law and was entitled to recognition by diplomatic precedent. He was a powerful soldier and the one man above all others in his country who was capable of establishing order. He had been recognized by the leading powers outside of the United States; but our chief executive turned against him; gave aid and encouragement to his enemies and in time effected his overthrow. We have been called upon to incur large obligations to Mexico and along the border which would have been unnecessary, in my judgment, if we had recognized Huerta. Such recognition would have given him financial credit and added strength to his arm. The interposition of President Wilson in the domestic affairs of Mexico was unwarranted in sound international policy and had proven disastrous in point of fact."

Conner, inspector general of Topeka, Kas., and Levant Dodge of Berea, Ky.

Bull Moose Executive Sued by Party Member

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A suit for $120 against George W. Perkins as chairman of the executive committee of the National Progressive Party in 1912 was begun in the Supreme Court here yesterday by Hugh T. Halbert, a Progressive leader of Minneapolis. Halbert declared he advanced the money at the request of Perkins with the understanding that he would be repaid from the Progressive treasury. Among the items is one for $1217, which Halbert asserts he advanced to cover part of the expense of a Progressive conference and banquet in St. Paul.

Assistant Interior Secretary Resigns

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A. A. Jones of East Las Vegas, N. M., assistant secretary of the interior, resigned today to become Democratic candidate for the Senate in his state.

ANDERSON GRATULATORY.

I desire to thank my many friends who so loyally gave me their support at the election yesterday. As it is impossible to meet them all personally I take this means of extending my appreciation to them. Sincerely, FRANK W. ANDERSON.

IMPORTANCE OF THE MEXICAN PROBLEM.

The relations between the two countries are so intimate that everything in honor should be done to maintain good neighborhood between them. The population of Mexico is 15,000,000. There are some 40,000 American dwellers within the republic, and upon its invitation. The wealth of the country is roughly $2,400,000,000. American investments amount to more than $1,000,000,000 or approximately 45 per cent of the total.

"There never was a time when it was more important for us, as Americans, to avoid creating lines of cleavage in this country based upon place of birth or occupational status. We cannot properly chafe Americans of foreign birth for sympathy with the nations which once claimed their allegiance, as against the nations with which they are fighting, and the attempt to impute treasonable motives to any one class of our citizens because of their original nationality, or the sympathies which go with it, so long as these do not interfere with their paramount loyalty to this country or any wrong inflicting it, is severely to be condemned. The greatest menace in this country is not so much the man who loves two countries as the man who loves no country at all."

"We stand for preparedness measured by our national needs—a strong army and navy adequate to compel respect for our diplomacy and to insure peace. Hand in hand with our physical preparedness there must go industrial preparedness which shall insure prosperity for the millions who labor and who in the final analysis are the real source of our national strength."

"The limitations of the hour prevent me from considering all the phases and issues of the campaign. Later I shall avail myself of the opportunity to discuss them."

"In conclusion, my friends, I wish to say that it is a very great pleasure to me to be associated in this contest with Charles Evans Hughes—our leader. He has in the fullest degree exemplified in his life and public services the best aims and highest purposes of the American people. His election will be an assurance that we shall go forward in the enjoyment of a new era of honor and prestige abroad and prosperity and contentment at home. We rejoice that the light of a better day is breaking."

APPELLATE RULING AGAINST HUFFAKER

Through a decision of the appellate court handed down today one of the angles to a legal controversy between John Gray and E. E. Huffaker, an attorney, involving litigation over attorney's fees, mortgages and bankruptcy, has been settled, judgment for nearly $1500 being awarded Gray in a suit against Mrs. Huffaker to recover that amount which was alleged paid by her husband on a mortgaged property.

Gray, after completing his sentence, sued Huffaker to recover title to the property. He was represented by Attorney John L. McVey. It developed that Huffaker had used the money to pay off a mortgage for his wife and had later gone through bankruptcy. Gray was awarded judgment to set aside the original deed he made to Huffaker on the ground that the amount retained by the attorney was excessive. Huffaker was allowed nearly $700 fees, while the balance of the amount involved went to Gray.

Gray then brought another action against Mrs. Huffaker to satisfy his judgment, and obtained another judgment which was upheld today.

In the meantime, growing out of the controversy was a suit for $17,250 brought by Attorney Huffaker against Gray and Attorney McVey for alleged extortion. He failed to file a bond after notice from the court and punitive damage of $102.50, including costs, was assessed against him. He appealed the case.

BOY MUST FACE MURDER CHARGE

Joseph Neuman to Go on Trial for Death of His Stepfather.

Joseph Neuman, 13 years old, must stand trial on a charge of having murdered his stepfather, Albert J. Peterson, who was killed last Sunday night when the two wrestled for the possession of a shotgun in front of their home at 2710 East Twenty-second street. The boy is due to the fact that a coroner's jury last night refused to place the blame for the death of Peterson, and the police decided to bring the boy to trial on the murder charge.

Had the coroner's jury exonerated Neuman he would have been released from custody today. Young Neuman claims that the shooting was accidental.

The tragedy occurred late Sunday night, following a quarrel in the Peterson home. According to Neuman, he returned home with his mother, Mrs. Julia Peterson, and his two sisters and brother, at 11 o'clock to find Peterson in a drunken condition. Peterson is said to have upbraided his wife, and struck her after which he quarreled with his stepdaughter, Mrs. Irene White, also striking her. Neuman telephoned the police of the Alameda station and Lieutenant William F. Wood responded. Quiet was restored and the police officer made no arrest.

Neuman then decided to take the members of the family away from the house for the night and went out in an automobile. Upon his return with the car Peterson demanded that he give him the driver's key. He refused, and the stepfather is alleged to have gone into the house and returned with a shotgun. A struggle for the possession of the weapon followed, and Peterson was shot in the abdomen during the fight. He died almost instantly.

THE BLUEBIRD BUREAU

Department of Good Fellows

Four little girls came in yesterday and explained that they were members of a singing class that were willing to enroll in the Blue Bird Bureau. They brought examples of their needlecraft to convince the bureau manager that they could be fully entrusted with material. It just so happened that the bureau is anxious to secure layettes for a number of mothers whom Daddy Stark has on his calling list, and so we gave the "Blue Bird Circle" some linen and cotton and a few yards of flannel. They promised to be back next Monday with a dozen bundles that will delight the hearts of expectant and worried mothers.

A kindhearted lady telephoned us yesterday about an old man who has been coming to her house peddling for several years. His stock consists of notions and small things which he makes with his own hands. This week when he called his poor old face was pale and frail looking and his eyes had failed him until he seemed almost unable to see anything. He is too proud to ask for assistance but depends upon his small earnings for his bread and butter, which evidently is very little. One of our very good friends will call on the old man today and see that he is provided for.

When the bureau made its first bow to the public it told the story of "Bud," a boy from the country who wanted a home, and that story evoked a wholesale response. We found Bud a home, and supplied several other youngsters with desirable foster parents. In fact there were not enough boys to meet the demand and we catalogued a few families for future reference. Now we have a sunny faced youngster for adoption and the people who did want a boy have either moved away or are differently situated. This little chap—we'll call him Bobby—has no parents or relatives. He has been in an orphanage and because the superintendent wants the boy to get a chance in life he has written to the Blue Bird Bureau for assistance. Who wants a boy? But particulars should accompany the first letter.

Appreciation is hereby expressed for the theatrical manager who last night set aside a box at his theater for the use of the Blue Bird Bureau, and for the kindness of the gentleman who used his seven-passenger automobile to transport a group of old people to and from the theater.

Just as we expected. No sooner did we confess to being broke than the mail brings us in contributions that revive our interest in the Blue Bird bank. It takes money to conduct a department like this, and while all administrative expenses are paid by THE TRIBUNE, there still remains a weekly budget to meet. The Little Brothers Shoe fund is depleted again. During one month we had 40 pairs of shoes half-soled and mended, and returned to their midge owners. The work cost us just about $11—the actual cost of the leather—so you see the few pennies collected here and there for the Shoe Fund were not wasted.

MISS DOROTHY BURTCHAEEL, a charming member of the younger set, who has been entertaining for a number of the brides-elect. She is the sister of Clarence Burtchael, who is to marry Miss Florence Mallett in October.

Society is joining with the leaders of the women's clubs tomorrow in the effort to arouse public interest in the campaign for the Susan B. Anthony amendment for national woman suffrage. Not only has Mrs. Frank Havens offered her beautiful grounds at "Wildwood," Piedmont, as the setting for the huge political "garden party," but there is to be an interesting committee to assist in receiving a score or more of women who are very much in the foreground of the social or civic affairs of the eastbay. Mrs. Sara Harb Field and Mrs. William Kent, both suffrage advocates known widely, are to speak.

More than two thousand persons were sent out attracting the notice of representative women to the gathering, as it is intended to form a large local branch of the Congressional Union here tomorrow. In the blossoming heart of Piedmont, and those who will receive the many are: Mrs. Frank Havens, Mrs. Oscar Pittman Long, Mrs. A. F. Coffin, Mrs. Dora Coudridge, Mrs. Edward W. Engle, Mrs. A. C. Barker, Mrs. Wickham Havens, Mrs. C. Posey, Mrs. Harold Havens, Mrs. Paul Havens, Mrs. A. E. Carter, Mrs. George Fredericks, Mrs. Herbert Hunter, Mrs. Mary McHenry Keith, Mrs. B. Hume, Mrs. Frank G. Judge Harry Melvin, always in demand for occasions demanding speeches, delivered a dedicatory address, and Mrs. Stolp herself broke off champagne over the stone. Twenty-five young friends of the hostess will celebrate the occasion, that Mrs. Gannon and Mrs. Pomeroy are directing.

Sixty of the younger set were the guests of Miss Elise Posey yesterday afternoon at an informal tea hastily planned in honor of Miss Evelyn Eiersen of Sacramento, who journeyed down for a short visit with friends in town.

Among those asked to meet the visitor were a number from both sides of the bay who had gone through college with her, graduating in the last class. Miss Eiersen is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma and during her stay in Berkeley shared many of the gaieties of the younger set in the east bay.

This follows the departure of Pay Inspector and Mrs. Barron du Bois, who shared honors at a number of functions with Mrs. Woods to the northern navy yard.

Since her marriage eight years ago Mrs. Woods has made her home most of the time with her mother in Claremont, and her leaving is much regretted.

The Epworth Methodist Church of Berkeley was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening, when, in the presence of several hundred guests, Miss Tina Graham became the bride of Herbert Kelly of Los Angeles. Afterward a small bridal party and a very few close friends of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonald Graham, of Berkeley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. B. read the service, and along the aisle where the bridal party passed. Mrs. Donald Graham (Albina Earl), the mother of honor, was a vision in embroidered pink tulle, which matched the bride's gown, while the two bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Lewis and Miss Jean McMillan, were gowned alike in pink tulle over pink tulle of a beautiful type, made very bouffant. Richard Strong was the best man, and the quartet of ushers included Donald Graham, Harold Graham, Max Watson and Mrs. Little Virginia Jones, a small cousin of the bride, as flower girl, completed the group of attendants.

The bride was a contrast to all this in a beautiful gown of ivory silk and old lace that had been her mother's wedding gown. Over the train fell a long veil of tulle that covered the head and fell in a fringe over the eyes, fastening with orange blossoms, and on her arm she carried an odd, old-fashioned bouquet. Her father gave her away.

Afterward the young people left on a motor tour that is to conclude with a visit in Porterville and in Visalia, where they will be entertained by friends before they leave for their home in San Diego.

This marriage was the outcome of a campus romance at California, where the two belonged to the same class.

After their return from their honeymoon they will live in Berkeley.

After a month's sojourn in the Feather river country Dr. and Mrs. Frank Roscoe Makinson have returned to town.

Mrs. Robert Nordwell presided yesterday at a luncheon at her home in Webster street in honor of Mrs. Robert Campbell of Los Angeles and Mrs. A. W. Anderson, who is leaving next week for Catalina, where she will make her future home. Fourteen enjoyed the occasion.

Eight guests were entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Elodie Blake by Mrs. A. P. Day at a new residence in Claremont. Miss Blake, who is a cousin of the hostess, has just returned from a three months' visit with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham of San Francisco, on their ranch at Sisson.

Mrs. E. J. Sanka entertained at a jolly surprise party last Saturday evening in honor of the thirteenth birthday of her son, Jack. Childish games were indulged in during the evening, gay favors were distributed and later a supper was served. The young guests were: Dorothy Auer, Olwen Williams, James Harrington, Marie Hervey, Alice Harrington, Alvin Kite, Earl Markel, Irving Vaseh, William Sanka, Lynn Forrest, Walter Harrington and Joseph Hervey.

Failure to provide for his wife and five young children. Here is the list of things that Mrs. Wood alleges places her husband in reach of the lazy man's championship: During twelve years of married life Wood has done no work.

Mrs. Wood planted a garden in order to help out the family table. Wood would not even dig enough potatoes for his own dinner.

Superior W. J. Mellon offered Wood a job. Wood sent his 14-year-old son to do the work and then Wood collected the money.

The roof of the Wood house near Oregon House, Yuba county, leaked, and Mrs. Wood requested her husband to repair it. Wood, in tears, refused to fix the leak, contending that in the summer time no roof was needed and in the winter he said it was too wet to get on the roof.

Wood has devoted the twelve years of his married life to shooting rabbits and catching fish by day and sitting around the fire and smoking by night.

When the warrant for Wood's arrest was obtained there was some delay in serving it, as Wood was in the hills on a "vacation."

"If my husband has done any work in twelve years I can't recollect it now," Mrs. Wood told District Attorney Marshall.

WOMAN ADMITS PART IN BOOTLEGGING GAME.

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 31.—Through the evidence of Miss Elsie Wood, a young woman, her neighbor, Mrs. James Jones, has been arrested here on a charge of illegal selling of whiskey. In Judge Schmitt's court later Mrs. Jones, in tears, confessed to her part in the operations of her husband, W. L. Jones, a barber. As a result Jones was lodged in jail to await trial on a number of counts of alleged sale of liquor. Mrs. Jones has petitioned the probation court to send her and her four small children back to their home in Nebraska.

WOMAN POLITICIAN IS ON WAY EAST.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Dr. Esther Phil Lovejoy, former health commissioner of Portland, Ore., who will represent her husband as a member of the notification committee appointed by the St. Louis Democratic national convention to formally inform President Wilson of his nomination, visited Western headquarters of the Democratic national committee in Chicago, and is on her way East to attend the ceremonies at Shadow Lawn, N. Y., next Saturday.

"The women of Oregon will support Wilson," said Dr. Lovejoy. "We have a Woodrow Wilson league in our state with 2000 women members."

BOY GRIPS HAIR OF GIRL IN WELL

Hanging From Rail Child Saves Friend From Death in Water.

WILKESBARRE, Aug. 31. — Stephanie Wain, 8 years old, fell into a water-filled cave hole at Plains and was sinking when her cries attracted the attention of Walter Bart, 9 years old, and John Bart, aged 8. The boys ran to her assistance, Walter, clinging to the fence which surrounded the hole, seized the girl by the hair.

Hanging to the fence by his legs he managed to keep the girl's face out of the water, while his brother ran to the nearest neighbor for help.

For twenty minutes the little fellow remained in that position until his brother came back with John Husley, who lifted the girl from the water and then lifted the boy to safety. The girl was partially overcome, but revived after receiving medical attention.

News and Views of Oakland Theaters

PANTAGES

Oklahoma Bob Albright, the man who makes friends every time he sings, is the big feature this week at the Oakland Pantages. Bob has a personality like no other on the stage, and he happens to have a voice to match it. The result is seen every night, when he "stops the show," causing George Garside, who is held responsible for the overtime in the orchestra, and the stage hands many anxious moments.

However, between Albright's singing and Garside's singing (of course the audience doesn't hear that) the show is a great program of joy. "The Elopers" add to the merriment, for Teddy and Nellie McNamara and their associates, Jesse Maker and the dancing girls, offer a musical comedy that is hard to beat on the vaudeville stage. They make fun while the spotlight shines—and then some.

McLendon and Deacon, late stars of "The Candy Shop," offer one of the most artistic bits the Pantages has seen in many a week. Miss Deacon's child impersonations are among the most remarkable in the world and she gives some decidedly original conceptions at the Pantages. Homer Dickinson is a natural comedian, and does not rely on grease paint or stock jokes for his comedy.

Francis Bayfield is a lively singer who makes laughs and music together, and Davitt and Daval please with their sketch "Holding Out," a bit of "Inside Dope" on dancers and theaterdom. La Zar and Dalo offer a comedy blackface act, and Will Morris does cycling comedy.

Next week comes the "Yellow Menace," a remarkable film in which Edwin Stevens, creator of the role of "The Devil," appears as the conqueror of humanity. This film teaches a lesson—and entertains at the same time.

MACDONOUGH

If the sole ambition of the sponsors for "A Night at the San Francisco World's Fair" was to play in the most beautiful business over at the Macdonough, were the pleasure of Oakland playgoers, they have succeeded in that one desire, for Oakland has demonstrated its interest in the entertainment of the city.

Scotty Butterworth in his pleasant and unoffending libretto role is easily all that was said of him in advance notices and he is one of the funniest characters seen by the reviewer in many a day upon the flesh and blood stage. He secures the greatest amount of applause for his comical efforts and quick quips and offers the stellar performance of the night. All of the others taking principal parts vary in ability, but there is not an inferior member of the entire cast. The many specialties served there are who are worthy of considerable mention. The great work they have been doing the last few days, and must really be seen to be appreciated. The "Lancers" Tyrrell, a young goodlooking boy and an equally goodlooking avette damsel, do one of the most beautiful dances ever seen in conception as far as the reviewer is concerned. The Aloha Twins capture their audience at every showing with their Hula-Hula just as it is done in Hawaii. The Exposition Trio and Miss Austin are vocal favorites, judging from the two new songs, golden-throated ones, Frankie Murphy and Harry Lee, take an encore for their beautiful songs. The performance seems to be just the very thing that Oakland craves for and insists upon getting before placing their approval in the form of a rush on the rules of the week and will undoubtedly continue for the engagement.

Few photoplays at T. & D.'s Oakland Photo Theater have created the general interest shown in "War's Women," which plays the rest of this week. It is one of the most sensational photoplays presented on the screen. This drama with Frank Keenan and Enid Markey as the stars and with Charles French in the supporting cast, thrills the spectator throughout the film. There are few if any other pictures with such scenes and situations. Many thousands of performers are seen as soldiers and as savage tribesmen, bent on the capture of the foreign hero, the destruction of the place, the massacre of the men and the violation of the women. The picture is a masterpiece of dramatic and graphic portrayal. The drama seeks to show that war is inhuman and brutal and that any border between nations is subject to similar treatment. There is nothing in the play nor is the European border to be feared. The production is beautifully photographed and staged. The bill will be made up by Billie Burke in the 16th episode of Gloria's Romance entitled "A Modern Pirate," a side-splitting comedy, featuring the ever welcome humorist, Sally; The Florence Rose fashions, and the latest Pathé News Weekly.

IDORA PARK

On Sunday, September 3, and Monday, September 4, the first annual bathing pageant of Northern California is to be given on the banks of the Indian Beach at Idora Park. Heretofore this bathing pageant has always been given at the bathing beauties of the entire country. The test for the large cash prizes which are to be given by the park management, the contestants are to be exhibited in gold frames set on an anchored barge in the center of the pool. The judges' stand is also to be erected in the middle of the pool. For the first time in many years the two labor organizations, the Alameda Building Trades and the Central Labor Council, are to celebrate jointly at the annual Labor Day picnic at Idora Park. About eighty thousand labor members are expected to enjoy the day at the great park beautiful. An extensive program is being planned by the park management.

ORPHEUM

Nora Bayes is proving to be all that was claimed for her at the Orpheum. They call her the highest paid woman in vaudeville. The great plain people naturally have little concern about the exact size of an artist's pay check. What they want is to be entertained. So, regardless of just how many thousands Miss Bayes collects each week, the fact remains that the little lady whose salary is equal to that of the President of the United States is a bully entertainer and clever enough to draw the crowds and then amuse them.

Nora Bayes has never before appeared in Oakland, but when she comes again there will be big ovations for her at every performance. She has become a great favorite.

There is a sparkling happy bill surrounding Miss Bayes at the Orpheum and of course that helps a lot. Lew Madden is one of the sparks of the show. With Miss Gene Ford he does a song, a play, a piano and gives an all round imitation of how a vaudeville performer acts at a rehearsal—forget that the theme of his musical comedy is "The Play."

Harry Holman tickles the funny bones of the crowds with his sketch, "Adam Killy." Laughs come thick and fast in that sketch and it is a classy thing, in fact, so good that the Orpheum people use it to close the big long bill with.

The Houdini Brothers play the accordion in masterly style.

The play on which "So Long Letty" was founded—"Your Neighbor's Wife," by Elmer Frank—is the foundation of the Orpheum Players to the program this week. Every woman who has listened to her husband praise his "neighbor's wife" for her good qualities and any man who has heard his wife dote upon the merits of some other woman's husband will get many a chuckle out of this three-act play at the Orpheum. It gives Max Waldman and Justina Wayne and Stanley De Wolfe and Jean Doreaux some very good opportunities for bright comedy work. Walter Gilbert, the stage director of the company, plays the part of a love-sick youth this week and gives Orpheum playgoers their first chance to see him in the role of a fool.

The Paramount motion pictures, clever and smart as usual, round out the bill.

FRANKLIN

"Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A." and "The Butcher" are the features now playing at the Franklin. William Desmond and Enid Markey play the leading roles in the former and Lionel Barrymore is featured in the latter production.

"Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A." is a vital picture—it has a live theme—and it is handled in a way that will draw the interests. William Desmond plays the title role with many vigor and Enid Markey plays the part of the heroine. In the role of a Mexican belle, Georgia Ventura. She and her mother barely escape a raid by Pedro Lopez, a former servant, now leading some of the worst elements of the city. "The Butcher" is in pursuit of the senorita and her mother near the border when they are rescued by Lieutenant Danny and his troops. He falls in love and she promises to answer to his proposal if he will visit her in the border town. The young officer crosses the border later on alone and gets his answer, but just as the bandit is making a second raid, the senorita and her mother are shot down.

"The Butcher" is a comedy-drama with an entertaining story and is a splendid vehicle for Lionel Barrymore.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1916.

STRIKE WILL MEAN SUFFERING.

Although prospects are slim, the country should fervently hope that some last-hour development may prevent a strike of the railway employees. No branch of industry or business will fail to suffer in some measure the disastrous effects of a general tie-up of transportation facilities.

California especially will be injured. The transcontinental railroads will accept for shipment only goods which can stand indefinite delay in delivery. The State's fruit crop, which is being, or shortly will be, harvested, falls under the classification of perishable goods. It will not be handled by the railroads in case of a strike or so long as a walkout is imminent. It is estimated that the absence of transportation facilities will mean a loss to the fruit growers of $6,000,000; reflected damages in other lines of business will be much greater.

Nearly every State will be hit in a vital spot and in most of them there will be acute suffering should a strike occur and continue very long.
When an industrial disturbance has such far-reaching and injurious effects upon outside and innocent interests, the principals to the controversy should consider the effect of their action on these interests. The general public does not want a strike. It should demand and exact just consideration.

GOVERNMENT MERCHANT SHIPS.

Government ownership and operation of merchant vessels in the commerce-carrying trade on the high seas is now an accomplished fact in the United States, except as to the details of ships and the commerce. After a fight of over two years, the Wilson administration has succeeded in jamming through Congress the government ownership shipping bill calling for a bond issue of $50,000,000. The bill passed the house yesterday, with the Senate amendment to permit the operation of foreign vessels in our coastwise trade.
It passed the Senate on the 18th of this month with thirty-eight caucus-directed Democratic votes in favor of it and twenty-one Republican votes against it.

The new law will be signed by the President within the next few days. It marks the most radical venture in government ownership ever undertaken in this country. This feature alone might not justify unalterable opposition to the bill; but it is not devised with a view of serving any practical purposes of legitimate commerce expansion or of adding noteworthy to present shipping facilities. The only certainly practical feature about it is the political object. It is planned to use the government ships to increase the trade between South America and the ports of the southern section of the United States.
To be of any substantial value to the general foreign trade of the country, and to make it in the least independent of foreign shipping facilities, the bill should have provided for the expenditure of ten times the appropriation of $50,000,000.

A shipping board is created which will form a government corporation for the purchase, construction or leasing of ships and their operation.
It will also have the power to regulate shipping traffic in the same manner now followed by the Interstate Commerce Commission toward the railroads. A Senate amendment reduced the salaries of the members of the board from $10,- 000 to $7500, so it may not be expected that high-class, efficient men will be secured for the important duties.

Existing navigation laws have been amended to permit foreign-built vessels to operate in the American coast-wise trade. They have been for-bidden this field for over one hundred years.
Shipping and business men predict that the last relic of the American merchant marine will now be driven out of business. On the Pacific Coast they soon expect to see Japanese-built vessels between our coast ports, as we now see monopolizing the trans-Pacific trade.
The sections, added at the last minute, which give the government to refuse clearance to vessels who refuse to carry American passengers to foreign port of call. This is aimed at the "black list" rules. It will doubtless bring about protests from the government of the countries but if strictly administered it will prove an effective counterblow against a most obnoxious foreign boycott order.

It will be a useful implement in the hands of a government honestly and fearlessly determined to safeguard the interests of its nationals. It might properly have been made the subject of a special act of Congress, but as a part of the shipping bill will be welcomed as the one redeeming feature of that sordid political scheme.

MYSTERIOUS OPPOSITION.

It is not easy to understand the vote of the upper house of the Danish Landthing in refusing to affirm the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States, or the popular opposition to the proposed transfer. Certainly there are not many Danes who would not consider the price of $25,000,000 to be fair. From the real estate man's viewpoint it is an extraordinary price. Nothing imaginable can give the islands a pure land value of $175,000 a square mile. The value of these possessions to the United States, however, is in the field of national defense safeguards, a feature entirely wanting in the relation of the islands to Denmark.

Another important consideration for the Danish government and people is that the inhabitants of the West Indies almost unanimously desire to transfer their sovereignty to the United States. Present talk of an existing sentiment in favor of the United States government seizing and taking over the islands, with or without Denmark's consent, is pure nonsense. But it does not necessarily follow that such an idea would not develop in the event they were required to serve our military objects in a national emergency. If the United States were at war with a foreign power and occupation of these islands were essential to safeguarding the Panama Canal or any other interests of the nation, the islands would be occupied. No opportunity would be left to an enemy power to make use of them. If the Danish people are not foolish or being misled by the agents of other European governments the treaty will ultimately be ratified.

Mr. Bryan says that he always cherished the desire to become a teacher of young boys, but politics interfered and launched him into other employment. However, his plans have only been interrupted. He is candidate for a position as teacher in a boys' school. Mr. Bryan has been conspicuously in politics for twenty-five years—a long time to remain in one business solely for the incidental benefits it brought in the way of advertising. The reasons for this is that Mr.
Bryan was impatient over the small pay of teachers and the profits of the lecture platform still possess subtle charm. He could not resist the call to the tent of the yodlers even when he had a $12,000 position in the cabinet. It cannot be believed that he is willing now to try his hand at teaching unless his popularity in the lecturing trade has entirely disappeared. And then he will be of little use to a school. No school ought to want him. To engage him would be to follow the policies of the Cincinnati baseball club in buying players that are "all-in." The Cincinnati club has always been a tail-ender.

The destruction of the cruiser Memphis and the loss of twenty sailors in the harbor of Santo Domingo is one of the sad tragedies of the sea against which no provision can be made. It was due to a murderous trick of the elements, similar to an earthquake or volcanic eruption. It is one of those cases in which we can only sympathize with the friends and relatives of the men who lost their lives and feel regret that their services have been lost to their country in so untimely a manner.

The "immortal" Newo Newi New may have been convicted of crime by a federal jury, but he still can say that he possesses a large bronze plaque awarded him by the directors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

The long list of "millionaire speed cops" to enforce the traffic regulations in San Mateo reads more like a speeders' protective association than a police force.

Since the recent rise in the price of foodstuffs, the New York man who said he could live on six cents a day ought to be allowed at least twelve cents.

HAYTI AND SANTO DOMINGO.

(From the Philadelphia Telegraph.)
Rumors that the United States contemplates the early withdrawal of some 2000 marines from Hayti and Santo Domingo will cause many persons to wonder how many times in the future it will be necessary for the armed forces of this country to restore order on that explosive island.

By contemplating the conduct and recent history of Cuba, the two little republics which share the island of Hayti might save themselves and their guardian, Uncle
Sam, no end of trouble and expense.

Following the Spanish-American war the United States withdrew completely from Cuba and gave the inhabitants a blessing for the management of their own affairs. By the summer of 1906 politics on the island had got into a bad snarl, however, and the opposition resorted to force.
Civil war had broken out again.

Uncle Sam acted without delay. An American army landed and prepared to deal with all trouble makers. Responsible Cubans on both sides recognized that they must settle their difference by other means than bush whacking. They parleyed, and soon reached an agreement.

After certain rather binding diplomatic formalities, embodied in the "Platt Amendment," had been agreed to by Cuba, American forces were finally withdrawn.
Warned by that experience, and true to her fresh obligations, Cuba has been peaceful and prosperous ever since.

If there be an influential minority of informed persons in Hayti and Santo Domingo it is to be hoped that they will exert all their powers of persuasion to convince their fellow-citizens that the era of free-for-all fighting has passed in the West Indies.

NOTES and COMMENT

It is stated that the giraffe is five times faster than the kangaroo. This is important information to those who are in a position to need it.

A Boston man is being sued for $5000 for kissing a girl. You never know what some enterprises are going to cost when you embark in them.

The safety week is beneficial in the direction of arousing people to the danger of being careless. There are so many acts done without thought.

The heading reads "No Harsh
Word in Fifty Years of Wedded Life." It is a great thing to say, and is not said so often that a deafening chorus results.

The dahlia is having a boom, similar to that of the chrysanthemum further back. It is strange how fashion changes and recurs in almost everything.

The astounding news has been brought in by the Matsonia that a whale is missing. There is a dead one ashore at Point Sur, and possibly that one will enable them to check up.

Senator Reed of Missouri says the Republicans will precipitate the country into war if they are successful. The Senator is like all the others from that state—he will have to be shown.

Constantine of Greece, in addition to kinging it over a people who do not approve of him, has had his tenth rib taken out on account of pleurisy—a most singular combination of afflictions.

Wheat recovered on Tuesday from the recession of Monday. It is likely to transpire that the bakers did not get around to action upon the reduction, but were ready when the recovery was reported.

We see it predicted that Rumania's entrance into the fray will hasten the end of the war, and also that a "long war is in prospect."
Which leaves the situation in the bloody uncertainty which prevailed prior.

Literary note from the Contra-Costan: "So far as our literary research has revealed, no novel heroine was ever fat, but the novel is so apt to leave the heroine about the time she begins living happily ever afterwards, which is somewhat in advance of the middle-aged spread."

Dubious joke from the Fresno Mirror: "Professor Woodworth, head of the entomology department of the University of California, says that Alameda county is overrun with the Argentine ant. The scientist is hereby unanimously appointed a committee of one to drive the intruder into the bay."

Political animalism from the Redding Searchlight: "McCombs, in the opening address, said: 'The elephant is dead, the moose is dead; long live the American eagle!' What an inspiring sight it will be in November to see the two corpses he refers to walking all over a very sick donkey, with the bird mentioned fly-

There are many people who do not get the plainest principle of the election laws through their heads. It ought to be understood by everybody that unless the voter declares his party preference, in registering he cannot vote at party primaries, yet scores of people think they can vote then the same as at a regular election.

Senator Lodge uttered a sinister epigram when he said that the present prosperity "came in a convulsion and will go in a convulsion." After the war there will be such an absence of demand for the more legiti-mate products of the factories that have recently been turning out arms that the present uproarious profits are likely to be revoked, and then some.

It is a significant fact that immediately following the opening of the deer season forest fires have been very destructive. It is reported that more deer have been killed this season than usual. This indicates that deer are plentiful and that hunters are numerous. It also leads the forest officers to believe that carelessness on the part of hunters is responsible for the large number of fires this fall.—Nevada City News.

It has been said that if a man raises hops steadily for a period of ten years on fifty acres he will be a rich man. What is meant is that if a grower can hold on through lean years he will have one or two fat ones when the price will be big enough to more than compensate.
Four years ago hops sold for 42 cents. The cost of production is about 10 cents. At the present time the market price is below the cost of production, and in all probability it will remain so until the end of the European war.—Sacramento Union.

The report that the employees of the Red River Lumber Company at employers to support one of the prohibition amendments at the November election sounds fishy.—Chico

The Land of Love was fragrant fair,
The air like honeyed wine;
When Cupid strolled one golden day
In quest of Lady Mine.

The lilies kissed him as he passed,

Each tried to lead the way.

The silver brook caressed his feet,
As o'er the stones he stepped;
He touched his bow with wicked glee,
And through the thicket crept.

Sweet Lady Mine, with broken heart,
Now sleeps beneath the rose.

STOLEN COIN
WAS FOR USE
IN BUSINESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—A frank statement that he came to San Francisco to rob a bank and obtain funds to operate a brokerage business was made today by Edward von Walden, who robbed the Mission branch of the Anglo-California Trust Company of $5000 in gold. He has no excuse to offer, save that he wanted money, and says he is willing to pay the penalty for his action.

Extravagance beyond the income his father gave him caused von Walden, according to his own statement, to hold up the Hotel Metropole in Detroit three years ago. For this he was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, escaping from the institution July 11 of this year.

Arriving in Los Angeles von Walden took another name and engaged in the brokerage business, where he says he was prospering. He resumed habits of demanding more money, though, so deliberately decided to rob a bank and use the money in his business.

LOOKED OVER FIELD.
"I looked over one bank after another here following my arrival for that purpose Sunday," he said. "I finally picked out a bank at Market and Mason streets, but abandoned the plan as there would be little chance for an escape in that crowded district. Then I chose the Mission street bank. 'Well, I failed,' he concluded. 'It was my fault. I am not going to bother my family about this. I really made a hard fight to keep straight, but I needed the money.'"

Von Walden was captured a quarter of an hour after robbing the bank after he had engaged in a running battle with police, while he stood in the tonneau of an auto and sped away. Evidently he was forced to postpone the actual hold-up for half an hour as he entered the bank approximately thirty-seven minutes after the time set forth in the prearranged plan.

Von Walden is a dapper youth with the manner of a nobleman and the appearance of distinction. He wore a beautifully tailored afternoon suit and carried a natty short stick. That he planned to change this garb before his escape is indicated by the schedule which calls for the leaving of the suit of clothes in Golden Gate Park.

In Los Angeles, where von Walden was in business and for the development of which he decided to obtain money by fair means or foul, he operated under the name of G. C. Malincourt & Co. His card gives the firm's business as patented house, store and office specialties, wholesale and retail. The office was at 217 Columbia Trust building, Los Angeles, and the name G. C. Malincourt is put down as president.

Chief of Police White this morning explained how he had led von Walden into making a confession of previous crime and incarceration in the Michigan penitentiary.

NOMINEES SELECTED AT PARTY PRIMARY
MANY NEW NAMES TO BE ON BALLOTSAspirants for Places
Ready for Race

Returns tabulated today, complete except for one precinct for the county, indicate that the vote in this district in the State primary election was about 39 per cent of the registered vote and that with the less than half the electors going to the polls Governor Hiram W. Johnson was given a total of about 1490 over Willis H. Booth for the Republican nomination for United States Senator. As the count progressed yesterday Booth gradually cut the chief executive's lead down.

What effect upon the election the remaining 61 per cent of the electors would have had, had the votes been cast in a Republican vote, is believed that the major part of that vote was a regular Republican vote and that most of the old Progressive Republican vote, the registration of which had been changed to Republican, came to the polls.

The following tabulation affords the total results by districts:

UNITED STATES SENATOR.
Willis H. Booth, Rep., 17,563
Hiram W. Johnson, Rep., 22,457

Steno in Cell
Goes for Spell
Chief Dictated, Oakland Man Obeyed

"Your favor of recent date received, and in reply would state..." Chief of Police Claire Snively of Los Angeles dictated to his new stenographer, W. O. Iserloh, and then Detective James McNamara entered the room and interrupted.

"Excuse me, chief," said the somber sleuth, "I want to ask a question."
Snively assented and McNamara turned to the new stenographer, hired the day before. "Are you W. O. Iserloh from Oakland?" he asked. The stenographer blushed and assented. "Then you'll have to come along; I have a telegraphic warrant for you as a fugitive on a failure to provide charge."

Iserloh was in a cell in two minutes and the letter is still unfinished. He protested that he had sent his wife $2 last week and would send more as soon as the chief signed the next pay roll.

When questioned about the first arrest of his kind in the history of the department, Chief Snively explained that he had asked the civil service commission to certify a new civilian clerk and, upon being told that none was available, had asked Superintendent Harry Donohoe of the municipal employment bureau to send him a good, reliable man. Iserloh was recommended, hired and jailed.

Berkeley firemen aided the Oaklanders. Berkeley firemen aided the Oaklanders. Berkeley firemen aided the Oaklanders.

M. C. Denney's home at 631 Polier street, and that of D. O'Brien, 642 Polier street, were damaged to the amount of more than $1000, the flames being communicated to both from the Edminster home.

Boys from the Bushrod playground nearby assisted the firemen in saving the furniture in the Edminster home.

BREAD IS TO COME UNDER STATE RULE

Stringent orders issued by Charles G. Johnson, state superintendent of weights and measures will result in the enforcement in Alameda county within the next thirty days of a standardization of weights for loaves of bread. The so-called "small" loaf must weigh not less than 12 ounces and the "large" loaf not less than 16 ounces. No flour is to be used to regulate the price of the loaf.

Bakers are being notified today by County Sealer J. S. Furtado that hereafter they will have to conform to the new ruling of the department and retailers must if requested by customers, weigh loaves at time of sale.
"This department does not assume or intend to fix the price of common commodities," explained Sealer Furtado. "Its authority shall not be construed to associate itself as arbitrary against legitimate commercial endeavor to obtain a legitimate profit. It desires to act as a public institution to safeguard the people against deception in weight and measure in the sale of common commodities by legalizing common and established customs in the sale of staple commodities and preventing the reduction in the weight and measure of common commodities as a medium of competition. The most staple of all common commodities is bread and especially those varieties known as milk, rye and Graham."

While many Eastern States and Nevada in the West have enacted statutory laws regarding the sale of bread by weight and fixing the standard of the loaf, the weight commonly adopted in California was sixteen ounces. It is pointed out by the department that due to competition the loaf has been reduced from time to time to as low as ten ounces, but that the common average weight has generally been twelve ounces.

Much might be said about the advantage of decorating the home with fabrics of this kind. There is such a wide use to which they can be put. There are so many little useful, artistic articles that can be made from the same material as the curtains and the hangings and give as a result a most delightful harmony, and a refreshing sense of completeness.

The exceeding reasonableness of price, combined with the numberless patterns and designs, make it possible to accomplish a very moderate amount of money to accomplish a decoration for an entire home.

MANY AUTOS JOIN TIoga PASS TOUR

Big Annual Tribune Event to Start Saturday for Four-Day Visit to Scenic Wonders of California Over New Road

By EDMUND CRINNION.
Let's go.
1916 Tioga Tour.
Last call for entries.
The big tour starts Saturday at 5 a. m. from Fourteenth and Broadway. We will go to Martinez via the Tunnel road. We will have a special boat ready for us at Martinez. We will travel over the new Causeway to Sacramento. We will go from Sacramento to Auburn over the Auburn boulevard. At Auburn we will have a special luncheon arrangement provided by the Freeman hotel.
We will check out of Auburn immediately after luncheon and drive over the picturesque Emigrant (Big Truck) route to the Tahoe Tavern. We will have special dining room service awaiting us at the tavern. We have been granted a special low rate at the tavern. We will enjoy the Tahoe Tavern surroundings for the entire forenoon on Sunday. We will start at 1 o'clock Sunday from the Tahoe Tavern and drive around the new scenic road circling the lake and Emerald bay. We will cross the picturesque pass to Woodlands in Alpine country and thence to Gardnerville. Next, for the night's stop—a trip of 67 miles for the second day. This will be one of the most picturesque parts of the tour and without a doubt this day will be the real red letter day of the entire trip.

DANCE IS PLANNED.
We are to have a dance in our honor at Minden, Nevada. We are to have a special luncheon arrangement for us at Bridgeport. In Mono county we will pass by the picturesque Mono lake, surrounded by desert formation and granite mountain cliffs at an altitude of over 7000 feet. We will enter the wonderful Tioga pass through the Leavine Canyon grade of the most remarkable pieces of road building in the entire world.
We will cross the summit of Tioga pass at an elevation of 9941 feet. We will stop for the night at the new Desmond lodge at Lake Tenaya. Here the tour will officially break up and those that want to can return home the following day via the new Oak Pass road, or en route at Crocker. Those that have the time can go down to the floor of the wonderful Yosemite Valley and come out via the Coulterville or Wawona roads.

For the benefit of those that are afraid of the first day's drive being too strenuous, it has been arranged to check out cars on Friday by special appointment. Those checked out on Friday are to proceed to Auburn for the first night's stop and either await the balance of the tour there or they can proceed on to Tahoe the next day by checking out with the Hotel Freeman at the end of the tour.

STORM HELPED ROADS.
Advices received yesterday from the different points of the Sierras tell of the wonderful improvement of the roads as the result of the heavy storm of last Sunday night.
Everything is in readiness for the event. It will be the world's most scenic motor tour. We will be out four days. We will twice cross the Sierra Nevada Mountains. We will visit the wonderful Lake Tahoe regions. We will see the Yosemite Park. Between the Tahoe and Yosemite attractions we will travel over the new connecting link, the world's famed Tioga pass.

No entry fees are charged for those taking part in the tour. The event is just a big annual event whereby the Automobile Department of THE TRIBUNE arranges for a tour across the Sierras for the local motorists and for the motor car dealers. The dealers' end of the tour is more or less in the nature of an endurance run, for perfect score awards are given to all cars that merit them by showing a 100 per cent perfect mechanical condition at the end of the trip.

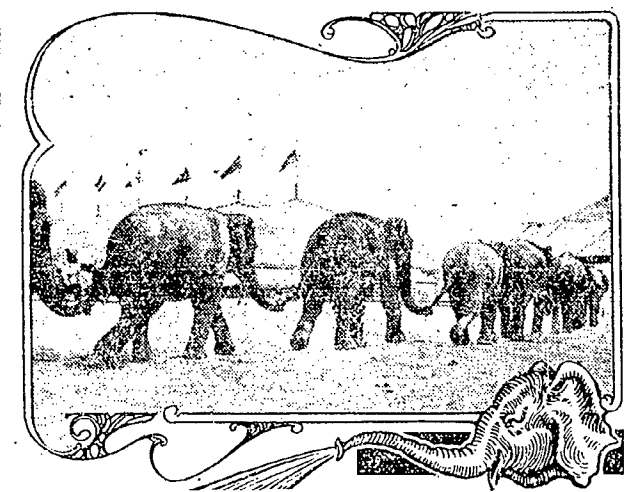

FIRST OVER TIoga.
How those who have been over the Tioga Pass tour view the coming trip is told in the following letter:

Dear Mr. Crinnion—Allow me to congratulate you upon your plan for the Tioga tour which is to be made from next Saturday to Tuesday under the auspices of THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE. I am particularly interested, because, as it happens, I was the first automobilist this year to make the trip over the Tioga Pass. This was last July, when the road was just being opened, and I, with my party, huddled down to work and aided the workmen in clearing the last drift of snow for the opening of the road.
The trip is a most beautiful and enjoyable one, and I would not have missed it for anything. I believe that every motorist who plans to visit Yosemite should make this wonderful scenic trip and it is also the route to take for Lake Tahoe. I am sorry that pressure of business prevents me from joining your party and I know that you and your fellow motorists will have an experience you will treasure as long as you live.
Sincerely yours,
CHARLES B. J. TRUMAN.
Once again—last call for entries. Let's go!

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.
I've certainly given most anything to be able to put up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excited thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite most failures. And thin people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are, when the purview of nutrition is normal. Instead of getting into the blood, much of the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.
To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can be accomplished by the use of a certain Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a careful combination of six splendid assimilable agents. Taken with meals, they take with the food to turn the sugars and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect has been in many cases reported remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores and other druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.
NOTE: Sargol is recommended only as a health builder while excellent results are reported. Care should be taken to eat unless a gain of weight is advertised.

HUGE ELEPHANTS 'USE' HEADS GREAT CIRCUS ON WAY HERE

Herd of elephants with Barnum & Bailey's Circus.

Barnum-Bailey Big Show Filled With Thrills of World Wonders

The largest herd of elephants in captivity is headed toward Oakland and will arrive here in a solid train of pachyderms pulsing bright and early on the morning of September 15.
Exactly forty-one of these huge gray mountains of animation will emerge from their private stables when the last train section of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth arrives in the city on the morning of circus day. They range in size from "Buster," a mere infant of five years in age and six feet in height, to "Babe," whose years total more than four score and whose measures a trifle more than ten feet tall. "Babe" is the great grandmother of the Barnum & Bailey herd and is one of the largest elephants in captivity. Although old in years she still retains her youthful vigor and strength. She and her partner, "Jonah," are the working elephants of the herd.
"Without apparent effort," "Babe" and "Jonah" do the work of several hundred men every day, pushing the heavy wagons and easing into place on the circus lot and sometimes raising a huge menagerie wagon from the mud and mire after the combined strength of fifty horses has failed to budge it. For these humble services "Babe" and "Jonah" each receive double rations of hay and bran mash every day, and they are likewise excused from service in the street parade and from performing in the rings.
The Barnum & Bailey elephants are the most perfectly trained performers of their kind in the world and it is promised that this season they will present an entirely new program of clever tricks, directed entirely by lady trainers—three wonderful women who can truthfully boast that they are the only representatives of their sex who have ever mastered and controlled the ponderous pachyderms.
The elephants are only one of a score of new animal features presented by the Barnum & Bailey circus this season. The program is replete with novelties, most of them imported from Europe during the past winter. The riding, aerial and acrobatic numbers are virtually all new to America, and the stupendous display, "Perils of the Pagodas of the Thousand and One Nights," which opens each performance is declared the most gorgeous display ever offered under a circus canvas.

Daughter of Early Missionary Is Dead

The funeral of Miss Emma L. Goodell, 76 years of age, was held this afternoon at the home of her nephew, E. H. Barnum, 25 Mont Vista avenue. Miss Goodell died Tuesday. She had come to California a year ago for her health. She had been living at the Barnum home.
Miss Goodell was born in Constantinople, the daughter of William Goodell, one of America's first missionaries to Turkey and Armenia. At an early age she was brought to Philadelphia, where she lived until a year ago.

MOB ATTEMPTS TO LYNCH PRISONER

Sheriff Injured, but Succeeds in Saving Life of Woman's Assailant.

LIMA, Ohio, Aug. 31.—After a night of violence resulting from the attempt of a mob to lynch Charles Daniels, a negro, accused of assaulting Mrs. John Barber, wife of a former sheriff, the prisoner was taken to the sheriff's office and the mob was dispersed. Daniels, the prisoner whose life was saved by the quick action of the sheriff, is in a safe place near Toledo, it is understood, and Dr. Lasser, proprietor of Allen county, is taking the preliminary steps of investigation into the affair. Governor Willis was prepared today to order two regiments of National Guard from Camp Perry to this city in case the trouble is revived.
Sheriff Eley is at Ottawa and is under the care of a physician. He is suffering, it is understood, from two broken ribs and numerous minor injuries from his handling by the mob.

Pension for Mail Carriers Is Urged

The aid of the Chamber of Commerce Manufacturers' Committee has been enlisted by the American Association of Mail Carriers in the campaign being waged by the postmen of America for the pensioning of civil service employees. Edward J. Gahner, president of the mail carriers' organization, was the speaker yesterday before the committee, telling of the work of the postal department, which he declared was the cheapest, best paying and most efficient organization in the world. "The department loses $30,000,000 a year on second class mail, for the sake of permitting papers and magazines to distribute information," he said, "and loses $40,000,000 on the rural free delivery, and $21,000,000 in Congressional franking concessions. Still, last year, it showed a profit of five millions—on two-cent stamps."
The speaker declared that the old workers in the department should not, after such service, be turned away penniless.

ALL EYES TURN TO SAFETY FIRST

Hose of Miss Careful Displayed to Crowds Is Center of Attraction.

Men and women, but especially men, crowded Franklin street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, today, when Miss M. Careful demonstrated the right and only way to board a street car. The young woman, carrying bundles, children, umbrellas and pulchritude, was today's feature of the "Safety First" week, and as she mounted and hopped lightly from the electric vehicle's steps intense interest was provoked.
Upon the history of Miss Careful was embroidered the warning "Safety First," but the crowd evidently felt that there was safety in numbers and did not run for safety further down the street. Anyhow, everyone who could stand and watch the right way to board cars, even though a shopping tour had just been concluded and the arms were rivaling moving vans.
Tomorrow night an illustrated "Safety First" lecture will be given in courtroom No. 2, city hall, at 8 o'clock. Saturday closes the week's campaign with a parade which forms at Clay and Eighth streets at 2 o'clock. Immediately following the procession first aid and life saving demonstrations are to be given.
During the past week schools have been visited by lecturers and "safety first" ideas taught the pupils. Every department of the Oakland school system, from kindergarten to high school, have been visited by lecturers. W. R. Humphries talked to the pupils of the Polytechnic high school yesterday on every-day carelessness and its results. As a result of his address a permanent "Safety First" organization is to be formed by the pupils and the study of safety conditions will be taken up together with first aid work.

FISH

The people are responding in a very gratifying way to the campaign urging them to eat more of our local fish.
We know you can now buy fish fresher and cheaper than ever before.
Have you tried buying fish since the new plan of marketing went into effect?
For today we recommend SMALL SOLE at the very low price of 8½ cents a pound.
This is one of the best of the flat fish—the flesh is firm and delicate and cheap.
If you wish to have "tenderloin of sole" buy a firm, fresh fish with bright prominent eyes—then get the dealer to skin and bone it for you.
Here is a receipt which has helped to make "Pope Ernest" famous for his sea food dishes.
Cut This Out for Reference—

FRIED SOLE

Fry in oil. Heat oil gradually to boiling point until no more bubbles appear. After fish has been thoroughly wiped with a dry cloth, brush it with beaten egg. Put in pan and fry each side five minutes—to a light brown color—do not turn until the one side is done, which will take five minutes if the oil is at the right heat. The fish will begin to smoke very slightly when it is time to turn it. In serving remove the dark skin and place on platter with white part up.
Other fish retail today at prices not to exceed these:
Salmon are not so plentiful this week so they cost 17½ cents a pound. Sandbars, 13½ cents, large and English Sole, 11 cents a pound.

CHIROPRACTIC
simply
COMMONSENSE

If you have an organ that is not performing its function normally, due to a pressure on the nerve supplying it with nerve force, do you think it good common sense to continually apply stimulants or depressants, as the case may be, in order to force the organ to perform its duty? Or do you think Nature made a mistake and gave you one or more surplus organs, that you do not need and therefore might as well be removed? Think these things over. The Chiropractor believes, for the best of reasons, that the human machine is a perfect machine, just as long as each part is in proper relation to the whole. Also that every organ has a specific function to perform, necessary to the complete health and happiness of the individual.

Nature working through a normal adjusted body has the power to heal all disease. All that the Chiropractor can do is to assist Nature, by removing the CAUSE.

If you would enjoy good health, investigate—CHIROPRACTIC.

SCHOOL ROW IS VETOED BY ELECTORS

HAYWARD, Aug. 31.—Each of the rival grammar school factions, whose pet schemes for school extension were turned down by the public at a mass meeting last night, is convulsing itself today with the thought that the other also lost out. The proposed introduction of manual training, domestic science and kindergarten, of which School Trustees Mrs. L. E. Rosenberg, P. J. Lemos and Principal E. N. Mahoney were champions, was decided against by the meeting which also declared against the proposition to house all grades below the high school in the old high school building. This latter scheme was one favored by Trustee F. J. Russell and opposed by Mrs. Rosenberg and Lemos.

The decision of last night's meeting in regard to these questions will mean that the special tax, which the supervisors were requested to permit, for the furnishing of accommodation and equipment for the teaching of kindergarten, domestic science and manual training, will not be levied. This step, it is said, will eliminate the greater part of the proposed $16,000 tax leaving only $2,000 for two extra teachers to relieve the present class congestion and $500 for a teacher at the new Hayward high school. The proposed expenditure for manual training, domestic science and kindergarten was to have been $1500 for furnishing accommodation, $1500 for equipment for the first two subjects, $5000 for teachers and $1000 for kindergarten, according to Trustee Russell.

Although harmony ruled at last night's meeting, feeling between the two factions is still strained. Mrs. Rosenberg asserted today that the meeting was "packed" by the Russell faction and that many of the people brought there by the opposition did not reside in the school district. Trustee Russell hotly denies this statement.

There were to have been two meetings last night, one in the grammar school auditorium under the direction of Mrs. L. E. Rosenberg and the other in the Woodmen hall under Trustee Russell. Both gatherings met separately but upon mutual agreement it was decided to adjourn and to hold a joint meeting in the Native Sons hall. Personalities and accusations which have been a feature of the school row since its commencement were taboo, although supporters of the two factions spiritedly contested the opposition opinions. The opposition plans were denounced and such terms as "rat-trap," "applied to the old high school" were exchanged between the two sides. Peter J. Crosby, who opposed the use of the old high school for the proposed accommodation of 300 grammar school pupils, pointed out that such accommodation for 100 older high school pupils. Hugh S. Aldridge was chairman of the

- 2 tablespoons sugar.
- 1 tablespoon salt.
- 2 tablespoons lard or butter, melted.
- 3 quarts sifted flour.

Dissolve yeast and sugar in lukewarm water, add lard or butter and half the flour. Beat until smooth, then add salt and balance of flour, or enough to make dough that can be handled. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl, cover and set aside in a moderately warm place, free from draft, until light—about one and one-half hours.

Mould into loaves. Place in well-greased bread pans, filling them half full. Cover and let rise one hour, or until double in bulk. Bake forty-five to sixty minutes.

If a richer loaf is desired, use milk in place of part or all the water.
